

ART & THEOLOGY: My Ruminations on the Good, the True, and the Beautiful, by, Rev. Jay Suero

(Every month I will share an art piece of mine along with a description of the theological reflection that went into it so as to hopefully provoke the theological reflection of our own.)

Something is “beautiful only because the delight that it arouses in us is founded upon the fact that, in it, the truth and goodness of the depths of reality itself are manifested and bestowed, and this manifestation and bestowal reveal themselves to us as being something infinitely and inexhaustibly valuable and fascinating.” (Hans Urs von Balthasar)

True beauty draws us out of ourselves toward the transcendent.

The more beautiful an encounter is, the more the divine presence is made manifest to us. Thus, there is none more beautiful than that of the Incarnation of Christ. My hope with my drawings is to point to that fundamental importance of beauty as a vehicle to journey into the mind of God.

BIBLE STUDY REFLECTIONS, By, Alice Rzeszutko

Since signing up for the Bible Timeline program I have been enriched in the teachings of the Bible. This program offers an easier way to discover the Bible and how to enjoy reading it. During our sessions we discuss the Bible readings and answer the questions that go along with the lesson for the evening. We also watch a video led by Jeff Cavins. He is a wonderful teacher and speaker.

If you are interested in learning about the Bible I invite you to sign up for the Bible Timeline classes. The Bible Timeline program is an excellent way study the Bible in a relaxed atmosphere with others who share your thirst to learn about the history of our faith.
